DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1 – 14 have been presented for examination. All claims 1 – 14 have been canceled and new claims 15 – 18 have been added in an amendment filed 8/26/2004. Claims 15 – 18 are examined).

Priority

2. Applicant's claim for domestic priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(e) is acknowledged.

The application is filed on 11/21/2000 but claims the benefit of U.S. provisional application number 60/140,633 filed on July 23, 1999.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 15 – 18 have been fully considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 102 that forms the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Gotoh (Patent Number: 6052465), hereinafter referred to as Gotoh.

As per claim 15, Gotoh teaches an access method for an optical disk including an information layer having a first region containing mastered content and a second region which is user writable, the method comprising:

recording license information in the second region (Gotoh: see for example, Column 1 Line 43 – 44 and Column 1 Line 58 – 60: (a) disk ID (serial) number is qualified as license information (b) control data area is interpreted as the information layer to meet the claim language);

comparing the license information to license criteria (Gotoh: see for example, Column 31 Line 57 – 57); and permitting access to at least a portion of the mastered content responsive to the comparison of the license information to license criteria (Gotoh: see for example, Column 31 Line 57 – 57).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 16 – 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gotoh (Patent Number: 6052465), hereinafter referred to as Gotoh, in view of Shimano (Patent Number: 5995474), hereinafter referred to as Shimano.

As per claim 16, Gotoh teaches the claimed invention as described above (see claim 15). Gotoh does not disclose expressly the mastered content is parallel-written mastered content.

Shimano teaches the mastered content is parallel-written mastered content (Shimano: see for example, Column 15 Line 25 – 26).

It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the teaching of Shimano within the system of Gotoh because Shimano teaches an improved optical head capable of stabilizing the temperature variation effects and optical disk apparatus can be made compact and at low cost (Shimano: see for example, Column 2 Line 10 – 12 and Column 13 Line 18 – 19).

As per claim 17, Gotoh teaches the claimed invention as described above (see claim 15). Gotoh does not disclose expressly the optical disk is a first surface optical disk.

Shimano teaches the optical disk is a first surface optical disk (Shimano: see for example, Column 12 Line 54 – 56: Examiner notes that “no transparent protection layer at the information recoding side of the recoding surface” is interpreted as “a first surface optical disk” to meet the claim language). See Same rationale applies here as above in rejecting the claim 15.

As per claim 18, Gotoh teaches the claimed invention as described above (see claim 15). Gotoh does not disclose expressly the second region comprises a phase change layer.

Shimano teaches the second region comprises a phase change layer (Shimano: see for example, Column 21 Line 62 – 64: Shimano discloses a phase change material can be used in an optical disk). See Same rationale applies here as above in rejecting the claim 15

Double Patenting

6. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees.

See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

7. A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

8. Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

9. Claims 15 – 18 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claims 1 and 4 of U. S. Patent No. 6580683 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter except the features of (a) a code user received in return for a payment is obviously qualified as license information (b) parallel-written mastered content. Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant was prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application during prosecution of the application which matured into a patent. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
